MOBILITY IS THE NAME OF THE GAME

In a place where different orca families from diverse sub-species navigate the waters in search for whale calves, sharks and mobula rays, we will need to be on the constant move to catch up with the top ocean predator... one that navigates over 100 Nautical Miles per day.

So far, we have identified a pod of Transients, a family of ETP's (Eastern Tropical Pacific), and Offshore orca groups in the area. Several boats on standby at strategic locations and our spotter plane will give us the edge we need in order to jump in the water with the most intelligent animal on our planet.

Will we hit the jackpot and see them hunt? Will we even see them at all?

JORGE CERVERA HAUSER

EXPEDITION LEADER

YOUR HOST

Underwater photographer, award-winning film producer and eco-tourism activist, Jorge has been sharing his love for the ocean and its creatures for the past decade. Through non-profit Pelagic Life he worked hand in hand with fishing communities in Baja to develop open ocean tourism as an alternative to fishing, and produced the award winning documentary film México Pelágico.

As the Founder and early CEO of Pelagic Fleet, Jorge envisioned, designed, and led the refit of the Socorro Vortex, a 140ft diving vessel and one of the toughest and most ambitious luxury liveboards out there.

As an underwater photographer Jorge has documented unique, never before seen marine behavior. Swimming along orcas while they hunt pelagic rays in the Sea of Cortez, lurking amongst crocodiles and anacondas alike, or freediving with great white sharks in Guadalupe Island are only some of the moments that Jorge captures in his breathtaking photographs. His work has been featured by National Geographic, Wired, Ocean Geographic, Apple and Samsung campaigns, among many others.
